Description:
International students and staff at CCBC are invited to submit their stories of immigration to an online literary journal that will serve as a resource for the CCBC community. This is an ongoing project through spring 2016 when we will hold a reading and reception.

Participants:
All students and staff who have immigrated to the United States

Audience:
The CCBC and Baltimore County community

Guidelines:
- Submissions must be sent in an electronic form to Sarah Barnhardt (sbarnhardt@ccbcmd.edu) or Haleh Azimi Harris (hharris2@ccbcmd.edu)
- Suggested length: 250-750 words
- Genre: Any! Narrative, poetry, opinion... Be creative! The stories can be first person or the write might choose to use third person. The stories might focus on the writer or a family member.
- Timeline: Submissions are accepted on an ongoing basis through the fall 2015 and spring 2016 semesters.
- Minimal editing will be done as we want the voice of the writer to come through. Any editing is only for reading clarity.
- Electronic visuals and images are encouraged.

Project members:
Encarni Trueba, Associate Professor, WebMaster
Sarah Barnhardt, Associate Professor, Curator and Editor
Haleh Harris, Assistant Professor, Curator